

Treasure Hunt

*Welcome to the Paleontological course!
In the middle of fossil turtles have hidden some original turtles that do not really exist in nature...
It's up to you to find them!*

These clues will help you find them, we will see if you are a good explorer:

- * I was there just before the invention of the carapace*
- * Do not hesitate to raise your head...*
- * I am well hidden in the shadow of the Henodus.*
- * Take 10 steps from the Placochelys - look south. Don't confuse me with a big stone!*
- * Very plumps, we only see me in the middle of the Proganochelys*
- * On the first pine tree in the middle of your path, I'm small but I managed to climb very high!*

* In the big turn, on the majestic, at the top, I don't care!

* The Ninjemys leaves me stone.

* With all my colors, I'm not even afraid of the saber-toothed lion.

* All green and 8 steps after the majestic, then look towards The North

* 5 more steps, then look south, on a friend of the majestic,

Well done you are really a good naturalist, you know how to observe your environment well. But you probably understood it, these heterogeneous turtles only ever existed in the imagination of Men unlike the large fossil turtles that you were able to discover on this course !

You have now well deserved to discover those that have been selected by evolution to get to the present day.

You will be able to observe the extreme diversity of forms of turtles that leave today, among us, on earth.
